Wm. H. Abbott is building a piazza to his butter factory.

Edward Stanley has gone to Boston where he has secured a position as conductor on the electric running between Bethel and that city.

The town is not so common, and a number of people from Chatham have to the admiration of all. It is very pretty indeed, and adds much to the beauty of the village. Those who have been instrumental in bettering this about certainly deserve much credit and in behalf of all we extend to them our greatest appreciation.

A. B. Richardson is erecting a barn in the rear of his house above the village.

Mr. J. R. Grindle of Mt. Desert, a student at the Maine Medical School, is spending a few weeks in town, studying Materia Medica under Arthur Wiley.

Dr. R. G. Wiley, Bethel's oldest physician, recently celebrated his ninety-fifth birthday at his home, in company with a few friends and relatives. Dr. Wiley is still hale and hearty. He says that he owes good for one to two hours each day for exercise. He does some after practice still and none of his old patients will insist on having his advice. Dr. Wiley came to Bethel many years ago from Fryburg, and for years a source of the leading physicians of the county.

D. S. BROOKS LETTER

PREPARE FOR THANKSGIVING!

Text: "What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me?" Ps. 116:12.

If I were Governor of this state, I would pursue a course very like the manner of the Salvation Army. They earnestly solicit food and supplies for the poor in their various areas. There is a splendid programme and is what I term practical Christianity. But there are so many "hooks and corners" where that arm of charity cannot reach. Many rich people follow the Bible injunction in ministering to the needs of the poor, and keeping a close mouth; not sounding a trumpet of what they do. But I know of a few, who are well-to-do, who have spoken, this very fall, of conditions as if they knew of no suffering ones around them. This seems a little strange, but it may be true. A large percentage of the poor are proud and seek to hide all appearance of poverty as long as possible. Many of them were fairly prosperous before the depression set in—three years ago. But they have aching hearts, nevertheless, that brood over their change of fortune. They cannot supply the comforts this Thanksgiving that their families need. Then, there is another class of poor, the "habitual needy," of whom Jesus spoke when he said, "The poor ye have always with you." You need not travel many miles from your comfortable home to find such families, or lonely and suffering individuals. They will gratefully accept your aid, if love is manifest in the giving, and a descending charity.

Now, there are two paramount reasons why we should search out and minister to needy humanity. I can only drop a word in this connection. Primarily, a duty devolves upon you and me to bless these about us. And, secondly, the Psalmist cries out, "What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me?" God does not dwell in the flesh; to partake of temporal supplies. We have a demonstration of this; when Gideon presented a Thanksgiving feast to the angel, under the oak at Ophrah, who only dwelt in a spiritual body; and when he touched the dinner it was consumed by fire. We can best show our appreciation unto God for his great benefits toward us by ministering to his children. For in the 25th Chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew, he says, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

We have all been blind by Jehovah this year, and we should return thanks by doing for others; if it is no more than the giving of a cup of cold water in his name. If that is the best we can do, he surely will accept it.

God reigns; despite political changes and economic conditions; and we are camping on his footstool. He furnishes us with tools to do his work. We have intelligence to discover what needs to be done and how to do it. We have power to use in the great undertaking. Resources of health, wealth, and golden opportunities are sufficient to "put it across." Sometimes, we fail to study the "blueprint."
